JUNE 2025

JUMP INTO JUNE

Welcome back to CEC News! This month at our school, there's still lots going on, including our CEC awards evening, Dolce providing taster pots, and trips to Exeter University. We'll be introducing you to Cultural Connect, Tutor Challenges and our Creative Corner is making a comeback.

TEACHERS PET

My name is Lucy and I'm a rescue dog. I'm 10 years old and I've had two operations because I slit my chest open! I'm an amazing runner and you'll never beat me in a race because of my Lurcher genes! I love to chase deer and rabbits and my favourite places to get comfy are chairs and beds. Whose pet am I?

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE MONTH

After another month at CEC, we want to share some of your favorite moments. The amazing Year 11's aced their exams, Year 7 and 8 came second place in the Exeter Maths challenge, and Exeter University hosted some of our students for a Pride event. Pupils have also been raving about Mr Kelly's trig video which is definitely worth a watch. Some books that will capture your attention are Aragon and Pride and Prejudice.

CULTURAL CONNECT

This month we have begun to interview students to connect to different cultures. Darya and Daiana are from Romania and shared with us that their culture is fun, colourful and bright. Darya enjoys coming to CEC because she said "I get to have a fresh start and meet new people". In Romania, people celebrate Children's Day which was on the 1st of June this year, which is a tradition that involves going out with your family and spending time with loved ones. Darya and Daiana's favourite meals are Sarmale (stuffed cabbage rolls) and Ardei umplita (stuffed pepper). Both students said that they'd like our canteen to include more diverse foods from different countries and would like our school to celebrate children's day.

CRANTASTIC TEACHERS

Mr Meteyard A.K.A Mr Metelord loves teaching all of us History and says “It’s the best job and it’s really enjoyable”. He said he’d like for “everyone to be happy” this term and he’d like his lessons to teach us about “why our world is like it is today”. Mr Meteyard was going to become a Mechanical Engineer but decided that Teaching was a better fit for him, after having a taster session. He was also a Teaching Assistant before training to teach.

Mr Meteyard loves baking bread to celebrate milestones and often brings his delicious Focaccia (an Italian Flatbread) in for staff to enjoy. Outside of school, Mr Metelord likes to listening to music and “loves learning about archeology, by reading about new discoveries”. The Metelord “loves commanding the Metelordian Empire and is excited to see it grow and aims to take over Peru”. Paddington be afraid!

Metelord Empire now recruiting.

CREATIVE CORNER

Poem created by Lionel O and Chloe G.

Joy comes from the summer sun,
the blooming plants, the stunning hum
of buzzing bees.

Pretty petals become wonderful summer staples,

alongside the joy of warm evenings with the cool spray of hosepipe cables.

School is nearly over, friends,
activities week is where it ends.

Let’s spread joy around the school,
have some fun, and keep things cool!
